

Sara Neufeld lives with her husband and four children in Springdale, Arkansas. She has been homeschooling for 14 years and has been involved in Stoa for the last six years. Sara has an education degree from John Brown University, where two of her sons attend. She enjoys church, family time, cooking, and hosting family and friends.