

Tammy Flood attended her first speech and debate meeting in Fort Worth, Texas, in 2011 with her husband and four boys, including a two-week-old baby. She slowly became immersed in the world of Stoa by working in various tournament roles. She soon learned Ballot Push quite well by working in tournaments of multiple sizes, including leading Ballot Push at NITOC in 2019. For several years, Tammy has been the camp and tournament admin for her club, Invictus Fides, in Southlake, Texas. She was also the inaugural chair of the Stoa Communications Committee for two years and a member of the StoaTraX Committee since its inception in 2020. She loves supporting her club and tournaments throughout the country with advice on running tournaments and using Flowpad and StoaTraX. Tammy also currently volunteers on the Stoa Tools and Tabulation committee with the goal of representing our Stoa community as we develop our new software.
